The Earnshaw State College School Dress Code Policy has been developed in consultation with parents and caregivers, school staff, students and the Parents' and Citizens' Association. A formal endorsement by the P and C is attached to this policy.

The Earnshaw State College community endorses, supports and expects students to be in uniform. A uniform is an important part of the development of our school as we agree it presents the first (and often lasting) impression people form about our school and its students. The Earnshaw State College Dress Code assists our school community by:

- Allowing for the easy identification of our students on school premises and during regional sporting and cultural events and excursions, critical incidents, safety drills or evacuations.
- Alerting our school staff to people who may not belong on our school grounds.
- Reducing the pressure of buying name brands and following the latest trends and fads, which minimises any visible economic or social differences between students.
- Promoting a sense of common purpose and belonging, consistency and unity in the daily activities of students.
- Student dress codes reflect school community standards and balance the rights of individual students with the best interests of the whole school community. They are consistent with health and safety considerations and anti-discrimination legislation. Student dress codes offer gender neutral uniform options for all students.

Parents are asked to supply a note/communicate with the Office if, for any reason, a student is unable to wear the uniform correctly. Please contact the College on 3621 7333 if there are any issues regarding the purchase of the uniform.

Earnshaw State College recognises that in some situations students may require modifications to the requirements of the school dress code;

- Uniform modification and exemptions
- Special needs/individual circumstances modification
- Individual circumstances modification

These modifications are designed to permit a student to attend the school with maximum compliance with the dress code, recognising that the student may not be able to fully comply (for example, if a student gets permission from the school to colour or shave their head in order to participate in a charitable activity or if a student with a disability finds the present uniform unsatisfactory for their disability).

Requests for exemption

The exceptional circumstances of some students or families may require parent/s to request an exemption.

Conscientious objection

Earnshaw State College recognises that some students and parents may have a conscientious objection (for example, on the basis of genuine religious or cultural grounds) to their children wearing a school uniform and may wish to apply for individual circumstances modification or exemption.

Financial hardship

Personal financial circumstances may make purchasing school uniform items seem unrealistic for some families. Parents should note that Earnshaw State College can provide relevant assistance to families for uniform items where financial stress is genuine;

- Loan uniforms are available from a bank of clothing which may be borrowed by students until uniforms are able to be purchased.
- Second hand uniforms are available for purchase from the P & C Uniform Shop.
- If these arrangements are unsatisfactory, parents may apply for a flexible payment plan with the school's Business Services Manager.

Pre-existing exemption or modification

The Principal will also consider granting an exemption or modification where a student has had a dress code exemption or modification in place at another school, immediately prior to enrolling at Earnshaw State College.

Application Process

An application for individual circumstances modification or for exemption should be made in writing to the College Principal. The College Principal in considering the application may require additional information from an applicant to satisfy themselves that the application has a genuine basis (as opposed to a mere preference or dislike). The College Principal will endeavour to respond to such an application as soon as practicable after receiving it, either granting the application or refusing it. The College Principal's response will be in writing. Applicants will be afforded natural justice. The College Principal's decision is final.

Consequences of approval

Where a student is granted an individual circumstances modification or exemption, they will be provided with a card outlining the individual circumstance modification or exemption. The exemption or modification allows the student to attend school without receiving a disciplinary consequence applied for the uniform non-compliance, but these students may however be prevented from attending, or participating in, any school activity that, in the reasonable opinion of the College Principal, is not part of the essential educational program of the school (this can include school excursions, extra-curricular activities where the student is associated with the college) and / or be prevented from attending, or participating in, any college activity for which the student would have been representing the school.

The student is obliged to carry the card while they are at school and is obliged to present it if school staff query their uniform status. Failure to carry the card may result in disciplinary action.

Managing non-compliance

The following non-compliance process should be undertaken during the student's free time, not during lessons which are part of the essential educational program of the school.

Where a student is inappropriately dressed and does not hold an exemption card or a note from a parent (This note from the parent is for one off or emergency and unusual occasions, if a longer period of time is required then exemption process as outlined in this policy should be followed):

- the student will be offered a choice of correct uniform items from the bank of clothing / uniforms held at the school for the day (to be returned to the school at the end of the school day).
- if they refuse to accept the offer of a correct uniform item, the student will be sent to Student Services by the staff member where either a Head of Year Level, House Manager/Manager of Year Level or office staff will ring the student's home to explain the uniform policy requirements to parents, request parental cooperation in requiring their child to accept the uniform items or where possible request that the required uniform items be brought to school for the student to change into.
- If, after this, the student is non-compliant, they will be dealt with in accordance with the sanctions for non-compliance.

Families with students who have a history of dress code non-compliance are encouraged to contact the Head of School or Deputy Principal to discuss the matter.

In circumstances where the College Principal is satisfied that the student's non-compliance is beyond the student's control, disciplinary sanctions will not be applied.

Sanctions for non-compliance

Students who are non-compliant, despite the managing non-compliance process above, will be subject to the following consequences for each instance of non-compliance, namely:

- detention and / or
- preventing the student from attending, or participating in, any activity for which the student would have been representing the school;
- preventing the student from attending, or participating in, any school activity that, in the reasonable opinion of the College Principal, is not part of the essential educational program of the school (this can include school excursions, extra curricular activities).

All students are expected to comply with the dress code and all parents and staff are expected to support the school in enforcing this dress code.
